26 SUMMARY

27 This amendment does the following.

28 1. In certain cases involving domestic violence, it prohibits a bail commissioner from 29 setting preconviction bail for a defendant alleged to have violated a protection from abuse
30 order or alleged to have committed a Class A, B or C crime under the Maine Revised
31 Statutes, Title 17-A, chapter 9; a sexual offense that is a Class A, B or C crime;
32 kidnapping; or a Class C crime involving criminal restraint, domestic stalking, domestic 33 threatening, domestic terrorizing or domestic reckless conduct.

34 2. In addition to information already required under the Maine Bail Code in cases
35 involving domestic violence, it requires the bail commissioner to make a good faith effort
36 to obtain from the arresting officer, the responsible prosecutorial office, a jail employee
37 or other law enforcement officer information about the severity of the alleged offense.

38 3. It requires a judge to order a defendant in a domestic violence case to be 39 committed without bail pending a bail revocation hearing unless the judge makes certain 40 findings on the record but does not require the findings to be reduced to writing.

1 4. It directs the judicial branch to study the application of the provisions of this
2 legislation and report its findings to the joint standing committee of the Legislature
3 having jurisdiction over criminal justice matters by January 30, 2013 and authorizes that 4 committee to submit legislation to the First Regular Session of the 126th Legislature that 5 is related to the report.

6 5. It requires law enforcement agencies to adopt written policies for cases involving 7 domestic violence to collect information about whether the commission of the crime
8 included the use of strangulation.

9 6. It corrects a number of cross-referencing errors in current domestic violence laws
10 so that the proper section in the Maine Bail Code is identified.
