ONE HUNDRED AND TWENTY-SECOND LEGISLATURE
FIRST SPECIAL SESSION
JOURNAL OF THE SENATE

In Senate Chamber
Monday
May 16, 2005

Senate called to order by President Pro Tem Kenneth T. Gagnon of Kennebec County.

Prayer by Reverend William Monroe of the Advent Christian Church of Goodwins Mills.

REVEREND MONROE: Good morning. President Gagnon and members of the Senate, I want to thank you for the privilege of allowing me to serve as your chaplain this morning. I want to commend you for maintaining the tradition of beginning your day by humbly seeking the blessing of God, for in doing so, I believe, you are more effective in doing your work.

Author Max Lucado noted that there is a direct correlation between the accuracy of our memory and the effectiveness of our work. With that in mind, I want to recall for you a brief moment in our early history as a nation which serves as an example of this truth. It was on May 25, 1787 in Philadelphia that the framers of the our Constitution met together for the purpose of writing new Articles of Confederation that would henceforth become the law of the land. There were marked differences of ideas between the delegates gathered there, resulting in long and passionate debates. At a critical point, after some weeks of deliberation and having made little progress, Benjamin Franklin rose and gave the following earnest plea;

'Mr. President, the small progress we have made after four or five weeks close attendance is, me thinks, a melancholy proof of the imperfection of human understanding. We, indeed, seem to feel our want of political wisdom since we have been running about in search of it. In this institution how has it happened, Sir, that we have not hitherto once thought of humbly praying to the Father of Lights to illumine our understanding? In the beginning of the contest with Great Britain, when we were sensible of danger, we had daily prayer in this room. Our prayers, Sir, we graciously answered. Have we now forgotten that powerful friend or do we imagine we no longer need His assistance?'

The delegates at the Constitutional Convention then waited upon God in prayer and on September 17th signed the newly drafted Constitution, which has endured the test of time for over 200 years. In their seeming helplessness, when they remembered to pray, they were divinely enabled to complete their task. Since that time our Presidents have frequently called upon the people of all faiths throughout our nation to observe a National Day of Prayer on which to petition God to show us His mercy and His love, to help us in times of trouble, to heal our wounds and uphold our hope so that we might live in peace and be thankful for His blessing. Time after time, He has graciously answered our prayers.

As you take up the challenging issues that you have to deal with today, I invite you to join me in looking to the one who is able to help you successfully carry out your duties. Let us pray.

Almighty God, we thank You for the morning and the gift of this day. Through all its hours help us to consciously walk with You. Thank You also for our great State of Maine; for its mountains, forests, lakes, streams, and rugged coastline; for its busy cities and quiet villages; and all its citizens, from our Governor and all those who humbly and faithfully serve in positions of leadership, to our men and women in the armed services who are doing their part to keep life here the way it should be. In Your mercy, grant protection to our troops today and bring them home safe and soon.

I confess my sense of inadequacy in beginning to understand the weighty issues to which this legislative body must give its attention today. Nevertheless, I count it a privilege to bring to You in prayer the President and the members of the Senate and the staff members. Only You, oh God, know the personal needs and concerns of these women and men and You alone know the struggles they may have as they seek to conduct the business of the Senate in an orderly fashion. I ask You today, that as they act upon the challenging issues before them, that You would guide them in finding the right answers, enable them to reject all counsel that violates the moral principles, and to resist those who would pressure them to violate their conscience. Help them to be ready to sacrifice their personal ambitions for the sake of doing what is right and in the best interest of this state. Help them, oh Lord, to rely upon You for the wisdom, strength, and courage that they need daily in fulfilling their duties and dealing with the educational, economic, healthcare, and other legitimate needs of our state. Give them discernment as they deal with budgetary matters, as they strive to maintain a balanced budget without raising taxes. Above all, help them always to be good examples in their conduct to the people of Maine by always acting with integrity, dignity, honor, and trustworthiness. Now, oh God, may the grace of Your richest blessing be upon them through all the deliberations of this day. Amen.

Pledge of Allegiance led by Senator Elizabeth H. Mitchell of Kennebec County.

Doctor of the day, Dr. Christopher Stenberg of Cape Elizabeth.
